PIONEER WOMAN DOCTOR DIRE PLIGHT OF IN RACE FOR CONGRESS

Eva Harding, of Topeka, Says Inefficiency of Men in Office Forced Her Candidacy.

Topeka, Kans., July 21.-Declaring that Gen. Devol Writes Military the "inefficiency of men in office" forced women to become candidates, Dr. Eva Harding, of Topeka, has announced that she will be a candidate on the Democratic ticket for Congress against Repre sentative Dan Anthony, of Leavenworth. She probably will be opposed by three men for the Democratic nomination. Dr. Harding is the first woman to announce for a national office on the Democratic ticket. She says her party choice is the result of the women being given the bal-lot under a Democratic administration. Dr. Harding is the pioneer woman doc-tor of Kansas, and is the hero of 1,000 battles fought for what she thought was right. In fully half the cases the public and courts disagreed with her, but that made no difference to the doctor; she went right on fighting and paying her way as she went.

She has been practicing medicine for thirty years, grows more flowers than are raised anywhere else in Topeka, outside the city parks, has beautified more ugly corners than any one else in town, and two years ago gave the city its sec-ond largest park as a children's park.
